July 31: Deadline for Order of the White Rose Scholarship applications

Are you a female engineering student interested in graduate studies? Then you're eligible for an Order of the White Rose Scholarship worth $30,000 awarded by the Polytechnique Montreal administration.

Polytechnique Montreal has created this scholarship in tribute to the 25th anniversary of the events of Dec 6, 1989, which cost the lives of 14 young women, injured several others, and forever affected the community.

The internal application deadline is July 31, 2015. Applicants will go through an internal selection within UBC Engineering, from which one candidate will be put forward to the Ecole Polytechnique for consideration.

Click here to meet the women behind NASA's Pluto flyby, a mission with one of the most women in NASA history!

The dozens of women who are powering New Horizons to a history-making July 14 flyby of Pluto look forward to the day when the conversation about gender becomes irrelevant. "Girls will be inspired to be scientists and boys will grow up to be 'gender blind,' seeing women in science as the norm," says Young.
